EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The World Bank, through a Credit from the International Development Association (IDA), is supporting the Government of Sri Lanka to implement the Agriculture Sector Modernization Project (ASMP) with the purpose of modernizing the agriculture sector. FCG ANZDEC Ltd is supporting the Government as an International Services Provider (ISP).

One of the components of the ASMP is to aggregate smallholder farmers at a cluster level and form a legal entity (Public Unlisted Company) that will enable farmers to offer aggregated amounts of quality produce to institutional buyers (domestic retailers/ exporters/ importers). This requires farm level grading, processing (washing and drying) and packaging; will strengthen the bargaining power of the farmers and realize the timely supply of quality agriculture inputs for member farmers. The envisaged outcomes of the activity are:

1. Increase in export earnings for the country.
2. Import substitution.
3. Increased farmer income
4. Job creation in the rural areas
5. Reduction in post-harvest losses

Through a series of activities, ISP mobilized 150-500 farmers in each of the 20 clusters into 20 legal entities, termed as Public Unlisted Company (PUC), registered under the Companies Act No. 7 of 2007 of Registrar of Companies in Sri Lanka. Upon rigorous exercise of farmers mobilization, sensitizing on the concept of farmer company/ PUC and its benefits, selection of Board of Directors (BoDs), enrolment as shareholders and initiating the collection of share capital, the ISP also developed comprehensive business plans and undertook capacity building programme for BoDs on business management. In addition, to ensure that the institutional and organizational structures are well established, the ISP also moderated one board meeting of each PUC to explain to them the procedures, responsibilities, and powers.

Out of the 20 PUCs, four PUCs have started commercial business by selling their produce to institutional buyers and 16 PUC are ready to commence the business upon harvest in the upcoming weeks/ months. Out of these 16 PUCs, 10 PUCs have started building their working capital through sales of agriculture inputs to member farmers and offering other services like hiring of farm equipment, etc. Until January 2024, in total more than LKR 83 Mn (about USD 260,000) capital has been raised by these PUCs through shares and sales of agriculture inputs. For mapping the net profit from the sales of produce and agriculture inputs, an independent audit would be required for the PUCs.

Alongside the successful business cases, ISP observed common challenges across all the PUCs, like

- a) Poor accounting systems/ improper record keeping.
- b) Low volumes and poor-quality produce
- c) Poor farmer participation and line agency cooperation
- d) Lack of confidence among PUC's board on business operations
- e) No or limited support from PPMU.

In this regard, ISP suggest that the project, commissions a comprehensive financial audit for all the PUCs to streamline their processes, enhance the involvement of extension officer of DoA, guide farmers on quality and quantity improvement. In addition, the project can look at ways to enhance the involvement of PUC mobilizers, the PPMU and extend handholding support on business operations for at least a period of one year.

1. INTRODUCTION

The World Bank, through a Credit from the International Development Association (IDA), is supporting the Government of Sri Lanka to implement the Agriculture Sector Modernization Project (ASMP) with the purpose to support the modernization of the agriculture sector. The purpose of ASMP is to support modernization of the agriculture sector, and specifically to increase agriculture productivity, improve market access, enhance value addition of smallholder farmers and agribusinesses.

International Service Provider (ISP)/ FCG ANZDEC Limited (FCG New Zealand) was contracted in 2019 for providing consultancy services to design, establish, operate, manage and transfer of Agriculture Technology Demonstration Parks (ATDPs) to Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs) in seven districts of the five provinces covered by the project.

Under the project one of the components was to aggregate the smallholder farmers into a legal entity, which shall enable the farmers to offer their produce to buyers as consolidated bulk and strengthen the bargaining power. During the feasibility assessment, it was learnt that there were already existing farmer organizations or societies at a village level, however, they lacked the membership and volume of crops to make a sellable pitch to the buyer as a group and most of them failed to meet the envisaged objectives.

In January 2022, following the presentation from ISP, it was agreed to merge all the village level organizations into a cluster level Public Unlisted Company (PUC) as legal entity under Act No. 7 of 2007 of Registrar of Companies in Sri Lanka. The sustainability of PUC would largely be dependent on the leadership provided by the executive committee, management of internal issues and conflicts, and successful management of human resource related challenges.

To manage external challenges, it was suggested to introduce a strong monitoring mechanism through a higher-level body including Provincial Chief Secretary, District Secretary, Divisional Secretary, Provincial Director (Agriculture), Deputy Commissioner Agrarian Development and Resident Project Manager in Mahaweli Systems to oversee the operations of PUCs, resolve any issues related to shareholder management/ finances and legal actions against malpractices.

As an exit strategy, it was proposed that provincial staff of MoA, DoA and MASL work closely with ISP experts during the implementation of various activities for institutional development to build their capacity on implementation of the business model and provide need-based support to the PUC thereafter.

1.1 INSTITUTIONAL MODEL

With an idea to empower farmers to negotiate and trade their produce directly with the buyer, groups of farmers have been registered into a legal entity as Public Unlisted Company (PUC) and collection centres established as post-harvest management infrastructure will be managed by the cluster farmers. The board of directors (BoD) and executive members (EC) are selected to manage the operations of the PUC. The business objectives of the PUC are:

- Provide trading platform to small-holder farmers, enabling to sell their produce directly to domestic buyers/ exporter with higher returns to farmers.
- Operate and manage the collection centre/ PHPPC for farmers/ PUC members.
- Negotiate with buyers on behalf of farmer members as business entity and help getting better returns.
- To maintain a 20% annual growth and a minimum net profit before tax of 10%
- To pay shareholders an annual dividend as profit sharing.
- Motivating more farmers to become member of the PUC and work as an entity.

This model is widely used in other countries as a means of improving market access and competitiveness for smallholder farmers and overcoming difficulties associated with weak bargaining power with the buyer, low farm gate price due to large number of intermediaries, delayed payments, high logistics cost and risk of guaranteed market.

This aim of the PUC is to pay shareholders a price that covers production costs and provides an acceptable return on the time and financial investment that was needed to establish their plantations. A key function of the PUC will be to act as a financial intermediary between farmers and buyers that will even out the cash flow for farmers. This will involve ensuring that all produce is paid for in a timely way, service providers are paid, and that payment is passed onto farmers.

Under the project one of the biggest value additions from PUC to offer the buyer is improved handling of crops through PHPPC, ensuring the crop is cleaned, graded, accurately weighed, and packed as per the requirement of the buyer/ market.

1.2 ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF ISP

As proposed under the cluster development plan (CDP), the ISP was mandated to undertake the following activities for the institutional development of smallholder farmers in 20 selected clusters:

- a) Awareness programme (line agency officers)
 - Provide detailed information on the PUC model and seek maximum cooperation for sustainability.

- b) Awareness orientation (Grass-root level; farmers)
 - Explain the benefits, encourage, identify interested farmers to become active members and promote bottom-up approach.
- c) Selection of BoDs and EC members
- d) Registration of PUC
 - Support secretarial service provider with all the required documents from farmers for the registration process.
- e) Mobilization of farmers into PUC
- f) Initiative collection of share capital
- g) Development of Business Plan for PUC
- h) Capacity building of BoD and EC members (four days programme)
 - Capacity building on business planning and management, decision making, conflict resolution, and financial management.
- i) Moderate the board meeting after registration of PUC.
 - Get farmers' feedback and acceptance to make necessary changes to complete the PUC constitution and PUC business plan.

As mentioned earlier, from the learnings of previous failures it was suggested to establish a strong monitoring mechanism through a higher-level body after the exit of ISP. Therefore, the provincial staff of MoA and DoA were requested to support and participate along with ISP experts during implementation of each of the activities to build their capacities on various aspects of PUC operations.

Few of the committed reimbursements under the project has been rejected, leading to lose of confidence of PUC on the PPMU. 5. PUC mobilizers do not have clear guidance from PMU/PPMU on their roles and responsibilities. They are misleading the farmers with incorrect agronomy practices, which may have a big impact on the project. Also, behavioural issues towards PUC have been reported to PMU, however, no action has been taken till date.
19	Specific support requested	1. Continued trainings of farmers on quality and quantity improvement 2. Improved participation and support from PPMU, especially to increase the membership of PUC and increased farmer mobilization. 3. Technical support to include value added products in the PUC's portfolio. 6. Risk Management: Assistance in developing and implementing risk management strategies, including insurance options, which shall help farmers mitigate the impact of unforeseen events such as natural disasters or market fluctuations

Conclusion:

Ceylon Rangiri Agro Products Limited is one of the most active PUCs in Matale district of Sri Lanka and having good potential for growth. Out of total beneficiaries supported by the project, about 30% are already registered as shareholders of the company, 48.5% have paid the capital and in process of getting registered. In total about 78.5% are already members now. The PUC has commenced the business by selling the produce in small quantities to various buyers and creating additional incomes sources through sales of colour bag, Paclabutasol, fertilizers and machinery rental. Considering the challenges and support requested by PUC, few of the recommendations from ISP are:

1. Production:

- An active involvement of Provincial DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- Extending support to additional farmers in the region, who are keen to join the PUC.

2. Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes/ campaigns should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the PUC.
- PPMU should monitor and support the collection of share capital and issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- Improved participation from PPMU with the farmers and support, as required.

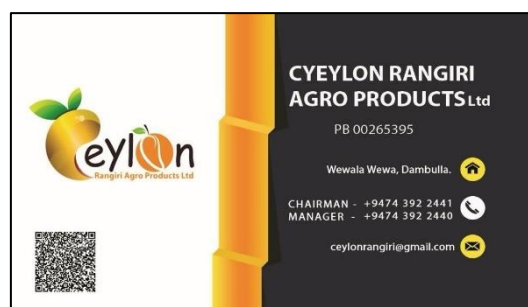

3. Business Operations:

- Need for awareness campaigns on explaining the benefits of PUC to farmers and sell produce through their own company.
- Additional marketing workshop for PUC to understand the market dynamics and support in closing the contracts with potential buyers.
- Handholding support on the PUC operations (contract negotiations, sales, auditing, farmer payments, compliances, etc) atleast for a period of one year.
- PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.
- Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs and regular meetings with exporter association in Sri Lanka

4. Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on filling the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

To summarize, the organization and management structure of PUC is well established, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. As a part of institutional development, brand has also been developed by the PUC to promote their produce.

Conclusion:

Sigiri Guava Limited in Matale district of Sri Lanka has a well-established organization and management structure with business plan approval from the members of PUC. This is one such PUC wherein ISP realized the farmer involvement towards institutional development of the company. The farmers as members of the company, upon learning that board members are not active towards development of the institution, decided to re-appoint for effective operations of the company. Out of total beneficiaries supported by project, about 7.5% are registered, however, 100% of farmer members have paid the share capital. The PUC has commenced the business by selling the produce in small quantities to various buyers and creating additional incomes sources through sales of colour bag, fertilizers, and machinery rental, etc. Considering the challenges and support requested by PUC, few of the recommendations from ISP are:

- Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs and regular meetings with exporter association in Sri Lanka

4. Financial Management and Compliances:

- PPMU should monitor the opening of new bank account and ensure that the share capital is deposited as soon as possible.
- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

To summarize, the organization and management structure of PUC is well established, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. As a part of institutional development, brand has also been developed by the PUC to promote their produce.

		Since the cluster was changed by MoA from MD-2 Pineapple to Mango and confirmed to ISP on 30th October 2023, the board members have been identified and in-process of formally getting registered
8	Number of Beneficiaries	Total Target	200
		Selected As on 23rd Jan 2024	75*
		Remark: • Initially ISP has selected 170 farmers for MD-2 Pineapple, however, due to change in crop by MoA leading to change in areas, the complete activity of farmer selection is being repeated and only 75 farmers could be selected till 23rd Jan 2024. • Due to change in crop some farmers have dropped out as lands are not suitable for Mango and as such cluster area has been extended to adjoining Wigamuwa Divisional Secretariat area. • Initially the target was 300 farmers, however, due to unavailability of planting material in the country, the target has been reduced to 200.
9	Number of Members	None of the selected farmers have been registered as shareholders. The SSP will again need to undertake the awareness activity for the new set of farmers and accordingly accept the registration applications.

10	Share Value	LKR 5,000; Decided by the committee members and other farmers during awareness programmes
11	Share Capital Collected (LKR)	The new board members and executive members have started collecting the share capital among themselves (LKR 20,000 collected so far). However, the activity will kick-off with other farmers once there is a confirmation from PMU on availability of the planting material.
12	Bank Account & Balance	Not opened yet
13	Number of People Employed	None
14	PUC Office	No
15	Business Activity (Started or not); If started, what activities	Inactive
16	Total Board Meeting conducted till date	One
17	Business Plan Acceptance Date Supported with documentary evidence 4.1.3.2	30 th November 2023
18	Name of Company Secretarial Services (Appointed by board and until when)	Bizad Private Limited ASMP needs to confirm to PUC and the duration of secretarial services under the project
19.	Issues and Challenges	1. Unavailability of planting material and drip tapes 2. Approval from Mahaweli Authority on mango cultivation in the selected area 3. Since the field activity has not even started and harvest will be expected only after three years, need for DoA to take up the supervision activities.
20.	Specific support requested	1. Immediate supply of planting material 2. Dedicated extension officers to guide on the ISP technology package. 3. Improved participation and support from PPMU 4. Request for TOR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. 5. Guidance to board on undertaking few PUC activities to generate capital until harvesting in 2026/ 2027

Conclusion:

Lak Golden Mango Limited in Matale district of Sri Lanka is one of the most immature farmer companies under the ASMP. Initially, ISP was instructed to grow MD-2 Pineapple in the region and accordingly the institution was developed. However, on 30th October 2023, it was notified to switch to Mango, which led to change in complete institutional structure including board members and farmers.

Out of 200, 75 farmers have been selected for Mango cultivation, however, the biggest hurdle to continue the activity is unavailability of the planting material in the country. Due to the fact, the farmer selected was stopped and related institutional development activities like member registration, share capital collection, opening bank account, etc. Considering the challenges and support requested by PUC, the recommendations from ISP are:

1. Production:

- Immediate attention by PMU/ PPMU to facilitate the planting material, agriculture inputs and infrastructure equipment like drip tapes.
- Nominating dedicated extension officers from DoA to help cluster farmers replicated technology packages of ISP.
- To initiate the activity, 25 farmers have been provided with inputs and starting to grow chilli as intercrop.

Since the production is the backbone of the business, unless field activity starts, the institutional development will be of no value. Once the production activity starts, following should be undertaken:

2. Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- Improved participation from PPMU with the farmers and support as required.
- PPMU should monitor the registration of newly appointed board and hold meeting to understand their requirement and extend best possible support.

3. Business Operations:

- Since the trading of mangoes will commence in 2027, as mentioned in the business plan prepared by ISP, handholding support should be extended to undertake other operations like renting the PHPPC and building capital to operations in future.
- Handholding activity should also include financial management, compliance, etc.

4. Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

20	Specific support requested	- Continued trainings of farmers on quality improvement - Request for ToR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. - Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contracts, auditing, farmer payments, etc) - Support on starting the nursery business

Conclusion

Sun East Pomegranate Agro Limited in Batticaloa district of Sri Lanka is focused on the Pomegranate business, which is for import substitution. Due to delay in cropping because of various external factors the crop is expected from March 2024 onwards, however, the PUC has a well-established organization and management structure, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. 100% farmers are mobilized, of which 50 farmers have already planted, other 50 have completed the land preparation and remaining 50 will commence the activity soon. Out of 150 farmers, only 12.7 % of farmers are registered as shareholders. The membership shall increase only upon harvesting and farmers gaining confidence on the project.

Since the PUC's business may commence from March 2024 onwards and may face various operational challenges, few of the recommendations from ISP are:

a) Production:

- There should an active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement based on ISP technology package. This is the backbone of any business.
- Extending support to additional farmers in the region, who are keen to join the PUC. For commercial business, there will be a need to increase the plantation and volumes.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes/ campaigns should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the PUC.
- PPMU should monitor and support the collection of share capital and issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- Improved participation from PPMU with the farmers and support, as required.

c) Business Operations:

- Need for awareness campaigns on explaining the benefits of PUC to farmers and sell produce through their own company.
- Additional marketing workshop for PUC to understand the market dynamics and support in closing the contracts with potential buyers.
- Handholding support on the PUC operations (contract negotiations, sales, auditing, farmer payments, compliances, etc) atleast for a period of one year.
- PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.
- Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

To summarize, the organization and management structure of PUC is well established, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. However, the business shall commence once the harvesting starts from March 2024 onwards.

Conclusion

Porathevupattu Agro Paradise Banana Limited is one of the most active PUCs in Batticaloa district of Sri Lanka is the first PUC to create the market linkages and sign the formal contract with the buyer “Dole”. Dole is one of the largest exporters of Banana in Sri Lanka. Out of total target of 500 farmers, 96% of the farmers have been mobilized and 63% of farmers have planned. Out of 480 farmers mobilized, 24% have been registered as shareholders. Porathevupattu Divisional Secretaries participated actively and supported during the PUC establishment process.

Since there has been a good start and PUC is working actively with Dole Lanka, few recommendations from ISP for continued business are:

a) Production:

- An active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- Extending support to additional farmers in the region, who are keen to join the PUC.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes/ campaigns should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the PUC.

Although there has been active business with Dole, however, it is very important to ensure effective financial management, farmers are paid on time and dividends are distributed on time.
- PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.
- Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs and regular meetings with exporter association in Sri Lanka

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

To summarize, the organization and management structure of PUC is well established, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. As a part of institutional development, brand has also been developed by the PUC to promote their produce.

Conclusion

King Banana Sevanagala Limited is one of the most active PUCs in Monaragala district of Sri Lanka and having good potential for growth. Out of total beneficiaries supported by project, 100% farmers have planted and 38% of them have paid the share capital. The PUC has commenced the business by selling the produce to Cargills for domestic market i.e., about 4500-5000 Kgs per week and making a profit of about LKR 38/kg i.e., approx. 190,000 per week. The PUC has a potential to do direct exports and earn premium price for their produce, however, this is a good start to have hands-on experience to manage the business. Few recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: There should an active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business. Given that 500 farmers have planted, huge quantities are expected from the PUC in near future.
- b) Membership and Shareholding:
 - Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and share capital collection.
 - PPMU should monitor and support the collection of share capital and issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- c) Business Operations:
 - Handholding support on the PUC operations (contract negotiations, sales, auditing, farmer payments, compliances, etc) atleast for a period of one year.
 - PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.
 - Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs and regular meetings with exporter association in Sri Lanka
 - Guidance should be provided on quality management certifications.
- d) Financial Management and Compliances:
 - Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
 - Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc. There is need for independent audit of the accounts and guidance on rectification of issues.
 - Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

To summarize, the organization and management structure of PUC is well established, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC. As a part of institutional development, brand has also been developed by the PUC to promote their produce.

20	Specific support requested	- Continued trainings of farmers on quality and quantity improvement - Improved participation and support from PPMU, especially to increase the membership of PUC and increased farmer mobilization. - Request for ToR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. - Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contracts, auditing, farmer payments, etc)

Conclusion

Siyambalanduwa Agro Products Limited in Monaragala district of Sri Lanka is focused on the Mango business, which is for exports. 100% of target farmers are mobilized and share certificated have been issued to 70% of the farmer members. In the previous season, there was not much business through PUC, however, considering the commitment from farmers and expected volumes in next season. Few of the recommendations from ISP are:

a) Production:

- There should an active involvement of Provincial DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- Extending support to additional farmers in the region, who are keen to join the PUC.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- PPMU should monitor and support the collection of share capital and issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- Improved participation from PPMU with the farmers and support, as required.

c) Business Operations:

- Need for awareness campaigns on explaining the benefits of PUC to farmers and sell produce through their own company.
- Marketing workshop for PUC to understand the market dynamics and support in closing the contracts with potential buyers.
- Handholding support on the PUC operations (contract negotiations, sales, auditing, farmer payments, compliances, etc) atleast for a period of one year. The actual buyer negotiation may happen once the produce is harvested, and potential buyer is confident with the quality and quantity.
- PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

19.	Issues and Challenges	1. Improper accounting of funds collected by farmers. ISP realized a huge mismatch between the funds contributed by farmers and bank account balance. The farmers have been contributing “x” value of funds for services/ products offered by PUC and deposited to society bank account, which is managed by Provincial DOA/ PPMU. The board of the PUC is keen to transfer this money into PUC Bank account, allocate shares to farmers at price of LKR 5000 per share. However, despite of repeated follows-up and commitments, PPMU has not transferred the funds to PMU bank account. Since PUC do not have any control on the expenses incurred through this account, an independent audit has been requested by the farmers. - Share certificate cannot be issued until funds are transferred from society bank account to PUC account. - Poor quality and low quantity of Bananas and poor supervision by extension officers. - Farmers are bit reluctant to sell their produce through PUC because of low pricing. - No support from PPMU in terms of interaction with the PUC, any guidance, etc. Due to these reasons farmers are losing confidence on the project. - PUC mobilizers due to have clear guidance from PMU/ PPMU on their roles and responsibilities. They have been creating mis-guiding the farmers with incorrect information. - Large distance making it unviable for any exporter to buy small quantities of produce. It should be atleast 3000-4000 Kgs to make economically viable.

19	Specific support requested	- Continued trainings of farmers on quality and quantity improvement - Transfer of farmers money from society account to PUC account with independent audit - Improved participation and support from PPMU, especially to increase the membership of PUC and increased farmer mobilization. - Request for ToR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. - Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contracts, auditing, farmer payments, etc)

Conclusion

Jaffna Organics Farmers Company Limited in Jaffna district of Sri Lanka is one such PUC needing significant mentoring to become independent and sustainable. Despite various issues like poor quality and low quantity because of adverse weather conditions and no supervision by extension officers, one of the major issues is weak institutional management. Since start there has been an issue on the share capital collection, allocation of shares and transferring money to PUC bank account.

Upon intervention by ISP and holding board meetings with PPMU staff in Oct 2023, there was a commitment from PPMU to resolve the issue of fund transfer to PUC bank account within a week, however, still the problem remains same. Since ISP has limited authority to intervene on the matter, couple of recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: There should an active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business. Due to large distance from the port, none of the buyer/ exporter would be keen to purchase small volumes of bananas.
- b) Membership and Shareholding:
- Detailed audit of society bank account and upon approval of accounts in the general body meeting, immediate transfer of farmers money from society account to PUC bank account.
 - Auditors should be appointed to identify the contribution from each farmer and along with the company secretary allocate the shares to each of the farmers in a transparent manner. Since few farmers have paid some additional amount, this should be refunded to them.
 - PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members, upon allocation of shared based on available capital.
 - Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership, share capital collection, and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- c) Business Operations:
- Need for awareness campaigns on explaining the benefits of PUC to farmers and sell produce through their own company.
 - Additional marketing workshop for PUC to understand the market dynamics and support in closing the contracts with potential buyers.
 - Handholding support on the PUC operations (contract negotiations, sales, auditing, farmer payments, compliances, etc) atleast for a period of one year.
 - PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.
 - Facilitate participation of PUC in trade fairs and regular meetings with exporter association in Sri Lanka
- d) Financial Management and Compliances:
- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
 - Handholding on regular financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
 - Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

Conclusion

Ceylon Smart Poton Farmers Company Limited in Jaffna district of Sri Lanka is established to substitute import of Potato/ Onion in Sri Lanka. The cluster has been performing very well on the production side wherein the productivity has seen steep rise and reduction in production cost per acre. However, there are couple of issues w.r.t to institutional management. The farmer company has been registered and commences operations by renting the machineries, opening the agriculture inputs centre and ready to start the compost selling soon.

Since start there has been an issue on the share capital collection, allocation of shares and transferring money to PUC bank account. Upon intervention by ISP and holding board meetings with PPMU staff in Oct 2023, there was a commitment to resolve the issues within a week, however, still the problem remains same. Since ISP has limited authority to intervene on the matter, couple of recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: There should an active involvement of Provincial DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business. Unavailability of Seed Potato on time has become a very serious issue and farmers are unable to do their Potato cultivation during the cropping season.
- b) Membership and Shareholding:
 - Detailed audit of society bank account and upon approval of accounts in the general body meeting, immediate transfer of farmers money from society account to PUC bank account. With the support from company secretary allocate the shares to each of the farmers in a transparent manner. Since few farmers have paid some additional amount, this should be refunded to them, or additional shares should be allocated upon advice from company secretary.
 - PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members, upon allocation of shared based on available capital.
 - Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership, share capital collection, and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- c) Business Operations:

		3. Request for ToR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. 4. Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contracts, auditing, farmer payments, etc)

Conclusion

Vanni Fresh Fruits Farmers Company Limited focusses on one of the very important Banana varieties in Sri Lanka (Kollikutu) and is in huge demand by the domestic market. The institutional structure is well established, however, one of the major issues is low volumes, making it unviable for any commercial buyer to contract with PUC and farmers forced to sell it in local markets. For effective and sustainable operations of the PUC, few recommendations from ISP are:

a) Production:

- The PMU/ PPMU should intervene immediately to address the issue of planting material. For any commercial business, the volumes play a very vital role and low volumes will make it unattractive for any buyer to contract with the PUC.
- There should an active involvement of Provincial DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- Extending support to additional farmers in the region, who are keen to join the PUC.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Detailed audit of society bank account and upon receipt of balance share capital from each farmer, the share certificate should be issued on priority.
- PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members, upon allocation of shared based on available capital.
- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership, share capital collection, and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.

c) Business Operations:

- Need for awareness campaigns on explaining the benefits of PUC to farmers and sell produce through their own company.
- Additional marketing workshop for PUC to understand the market dynamics and support in closing the contracts with potential buyers.
- Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contract negotiations, auditing, farmer payments, etc) atleast for a period of one year. The actual buyer negotiation may happen once the produce is harvested, and potential buyer is confident with the quality and quantity.
- PPMU should moderate the board meetings and help in any problem solving.

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on regular financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

Conclusion

Lanka Red Gems Farmers Company Limited in Mullaitivu district of Sri Lanka is focused on the Pomegranate business, which is for import substitution. Although, due to delay in cropping because of various external factors the crop is expected from 2025 onwards, however, the PUC has a well-established organization and management structure, and business plan has been approved by the members of PUC.

Since the PUC's business may commence only from 2025 onwards and may face various operational challenges, few of the recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: There should an active involvement of Provincial DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- b) Membership and Shareholding:
 - Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.

Conclusion

Rajanganaya A Park Limited in Anuradhapura district of Sri Lanka is one of the first PUC to commence their business. The institutional structure was established in 2022 and 1st shipment was done in Nov 2022. However, due to various challenges the business stopped in April 2023. With efforts from ISP and PMU, the market linkage was created with Ceylon Fresh with exports with Middle East countries and business commenced in Aug-Sep 2023. To ensure the quality of produce from the farmers, the buyer deployed their own staff to ensure the field supervision and quality control.

Currently, the PUC is selling about 7000-7500 kgs of Banana per week. To ensure continued business, few recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: There should an active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality and quantity improvement. This is the backbone of any business.
- b) Membership and Shareholding:
 - Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project in the nearby areas. With the buyer connected to PUC, they have potential to ship much larger quantities.
 - PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- c) Business Operations:
 - Although the PUC is making the sales to Ceylon Fresh, however, there still a need of handholding of PUC on other operational matters like contract management, streamlining farmer payment, timely review and negotiation of prices, distribution of dividends, auditing, compliances, etc, for an atleast a period of one year.
 - Guidance should be provided to start value added products for the 3rd grade products.
- d) Financial Management and Compliances:
 - Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
 - Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

Ipalogama Agri Products Limited in Anuradhapura district of Sri Lanka is focussed on Guava crop. Due to high prices in the local market, currently the farmers are selling directly in local market, however are connected with various potential buyers. To ensure continued business, few recommendations from ISP are:

- a) Production: Due to water retention in the soil, production has been a problem in this area. However, efforts have been made to ensure better drainage and irrigation. Conclusion

LPL Agri Holdings Limited is established in Polonnaruwa district of Sri Lanka with key objective to trade dried chillies and substitute import into the country. The institutional structure is well established, however, there are couple of challenges w.r.t accounting of share capital and operations of the PUC. Currently, farmers are selling the green chillies directly into the domestic market. For effective and sustainable operations of the PUC, few recommendations from ISP are:

a) Production:

- To make it a viable business the production is key component and PPMU should intervene to motivate more farmers in the cluster to adopt ISP practices and plant chillies.
- There should an active involvement of DoA extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality improvement.
- Establish the chilli drying unit for value addition and premium price for the PUC.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership, share capital collection, and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- Immediate transfer of funds from village level society bank account to PUC bank account
- PPMU should supervise collection of remaining share capital from member farmers through PUC staff.
- Detailed audit of account and upon approval in the general body meeting, issue the share certificates under supervision of PPMU.

c) Business Operations:

- Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contract negotiations, auditing, farmer payments, etc) atleast for a period of one year. The actual buyer negotiation may happen once the produce is harvested, and potential buyer is confident with the quality and quantity.

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on regular financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc

Conclusion

Ceylon Fresh Papaya Limited focuses on Papaya trading for the export market. The institutional structure is well established, however, one of the major issues is low volumes, making it unviable for any commercial buyer to contract with PUC and farmers forced to sell it in local markets. For effective and sustainable operations of the PUC, few recommendations from ISP are:

a) Production:

- There should an active involvement of DoA/ MASL extension officers and continued guidance to farmers on the quality improvement. This is the backbone of any business.

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members, upon receipt of share capital.

- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership, share capital collection, and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.

c) Business Operations:

- Handholding support on the PUC operations (marketing, sales, contract negotiations, auditing, farmer payments, etc) atleast for a period of one year. The actual buyer negotiation may happen once the produce is harvested, and potential buyer is confident with the quality and quantity.

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Handholding on regular financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

18	Name of Company Secretarial Services (Appointed by board and until when)	Bizad Private Limited ASMP needs to confirm to PUC and the duration of secretarial services under the project
19.	Issues and Challenges	1. Heavy rains and change of crop in Oct 2023, delayed the planting activity. 2. The share capital collection and farmer member registration were very slow due to no clarity on the type of crop and farmers were not willing to contribute share capital. 3. The harvesting may start from April -May 2024 onwards, however, very low volumes
19	Specific support requested	1. Dedicated extension officers to guide on the ISP technology package. 2. Improved participation and support from PPMU 3. Request for TOR of PUC mobilizers and guidance from PMU on their roles. 4. Guidance to board on undertaking few PUC activities to generate capital until harvest comes in April -May 2024

Conclusion

Ceylon Vege Cultivators Limited in Polonnaruwa district of Sri Lanka is one of the most immature farmers companies under the ASMP. Initially, ISP was instructed to grow organic vegetables in the region and accordingly the institution was developed. However, for couple of months activity was put on holds because the organic vegetables were under question and on 30th October 2023, it was notified to switch to non-organic vegetables, which led to change initiating the activities from scratch.

Now, all the farmers are selected for non-organic vegetables, however, the biggest hurdle in past few months was heavy rains leading to delay in land preparation. Since the foundation of institutional has been established and delay in cropping is beyond the control of ISP, few recommendations for effective operations are:

a) Production:

- Nominating dedicated extension officers from DoA/ MASL to help cluster farmers replicated technology packages of ISP.

Since the production is backbone of the business, unless field activity starts, the institutional development will be of no value. Once the production activity starts, following should be undertaken:

b) Membership and Shareholding:

- Awareness programmes should be organized by PPMU to boost the membership and enhance the confidence of farmers on the project.
- PPMU should monitor the issuance of share certificates to all the members who have paid the share capital.
- Improved participation from PPMU with the farmers and support as required.

c) Business Operations:

- Establishment of processing and packaging centre.
- Since packaging of vegetables will be a complex activity, training should be provided by PMU on operations of packaging centre.
- Handholding activity should also include financial management, compliance, etc.

d) Financial Management and Compliances:

- Clear guidance to PUC on the secretarial services support by the project
- Handholding on the financial audits, profit distribution to the members, etc
- Immediate guidance on completing the compliances like taxations, returns, etc.

3. CONCLUSION

The concept of farmer producer organizations (FPOs) or farmer producer companies (FPCs) started taking root in developing countries in the early 2000s to help smallholder farmers pool together their produce, trade in larger quantities and start value-addition activities. With the same model customized to the local requirements in Sri Lanka, it was decided to aggregate the smallholder farmers at a cluster level into a legal entity, termed as Public Unlisted Company (PUC).

With efforts starting from the awareness orientation of the line agency officers to capacity building of PUC officials, the entire component on institutional and organization development was designed to keep the process interactive, ensuring involvement of farmers. For capacity building on business management, the idea was to make farmers understand the model and business aspects of operating a company owned by them through lectures on business plans and manifesting their own innovative ideas.

ISP mobilized farmers into legal entities in all 20 clusters and established the management structures for all 20 PUCs. Although the companies are well established with strong management teams, they are nascent businesses. The ISP observed various challenges common to all the PUCs, particularly related to financial management and accounting practices, poor farmer confidence on the PUC, lack of confidence among PUC's Board on business operations and low volumes of produce.

In any business, a company is set to face various challenges at the start and benefits from mentoring by seasoned advisors. As this is a new model for the smallholder farmers it is very challenging to become independent within a few months of operation. There will be a gradual process of learning and adaptation to overcome all the challenges and streamline the operations.

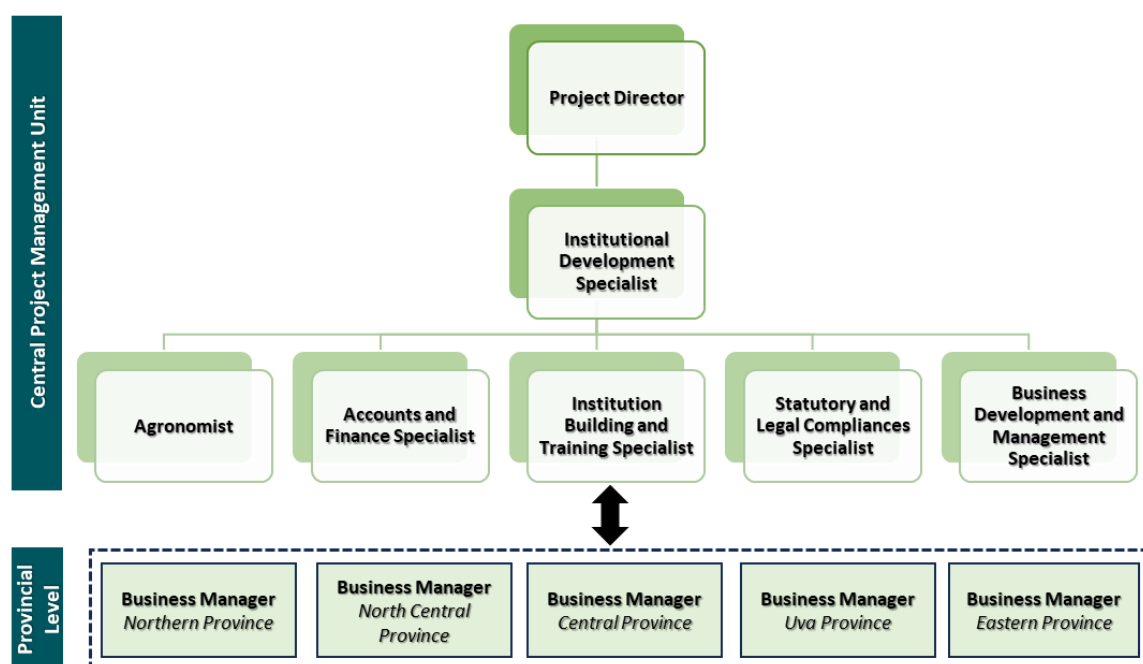

As an additional benefit, ISP also moderated the board meetings for various PUC and observed good understanding of the PUC concept and commitment of BoDs and EC members.

- A large number of board meetings were conducted with the majority participation of executive committee members.
- Business plans have been well accepted by the farmers.
- Key issue identified at all board meetings was delay in establishing the infrastructure/ collection center.
- The majority of PUCs have indicated the need for handholding support from the project.

To conclude, ISP strongly recommend the technical handholding support to PUC for at least a period of three to five years to provide the support needed to overcome the initial learning curve of running a business and support the sustained operation of the PUCs. The PMU can empanel subject matter experts from the private sector in the below specific areas.

- a) Agronomist
- b) Accounts and Finance Specialist
- c) Institution Building and Training Specialist
- d) Business Development and Management Specialist
- e) Statutory and Legal Compliances Specialist

These five roles should be based out of PMU for better coordination with stakeholders like buyers, banks, PMU, and the ability to quickly travel to any of the 20 PUCs when needed. For improved coordination, the project may choose to have business managers for them in each province managing 5-6 PUCs each. Funding to pay for these jobs can be from project funds till the end of 2024 and subsequently from project funding (if available) and/or from the PUCs revenue (if available).

Key responsibilities for these role holders:

a) Accounts and Finance Specialist

Expertise: This individual should have 5-7 years of hands-on experience in leading the accounts and finance vertical of a private company that has more than three locations / offices in Sri Lanka.

Responsibility: To ensure that the Finance and Accounts of each of the 20 PUCs are up to date and the MIS is integrated between PUC, PPMU and PMU.

b) Institution Building and Training Specialist

Expertise: This individual should have 5-7 years of hands-on experience in leading the institutional building effort of farmer owned organization that operates in more than three provinces in Sri Lanka.

Responsibility: To ensure that the 20 PUCs are trained on a regular basis, farmer mobilization is ongoing, board meetings are held as per requirement and institutional problems are addressed.

c) Statutory and Legal Compliance Specialist

Expertise: This individual should have 5-7 years hands on experience in leading the Compliance function of a private company that operates in more than three provinces in Sri Lanka.

Responsibility: To ensure that the 20 PUCs are legally compliant on all aspects. This role is in addition to the services of an external auditor.

d) Business Development and Management Specialist

Expertise: This individual should have 5-7 years hands on experience in managing and being responsible of the P&L compliance function of a private company and experience in export market of agricultural commodities.

Responsibility: To ensure that the 20 PUCs are connected with potential buyers in international market and achieve P&L profitability. In this role he/ she would also be responsible for the sales and marketing functions for all 20 PUCs.

4.7.1.5 Business Plan Acceptance

The board minutes of the BoD meeting of LPL Agri Holding Ltd.

2023-10-24

The board of directors meeting was held today at the Sewanapitiya Mahaweli block office. The company secretary participated in this meeting through Zoom technology.

- Business plan discussion.

1. The company business plan discussed on 2023-10-23 and 2023-10-24 was approved by the board of directors of the company.
2. Fertilizers, polythene mulch, agro-chemicals, and seeds are purchased by the company and sold to the farmers at a modest profit.
3. Collecting green chili harvest from the farmers, then transporting and selling it in the economic centers
4. Hiring the company's tractor for bed forming,
 - For company farmers - 6,000 per hour
 - For non-company farmers - 7,000 per hour
 - Mold board plowing - 10,000 per acre
5. Collect the shares from each farmer for the company.

- Suggestions

1. Getting approval from PMU for the business plan to be implemented
2. Translating the business plan given in English into Sinhala
3. Inquiring about the existing issues of the farmers relevant to the chilli cultivation, which is scheduled to start in January.
4. Purchasing the inputs needed for farmers before the start of the cultivation, which is scheduled to start in January
5. Collecting the payments from the farmer before putting the tractor in the farmer's field.
6. Inform the project about the installation of dryers and other machines required to set up the processing center.
7. Recruiting the employees as per the need after the company starts business activities and the company starts making profit
8. The current bank account is a current account opened in the commercial bank. Starting an account at the Bank of Ceylon in Sewanapitiya is necessary because traveling from Nelumwewa to Kaduruwela is expensive and an account at a government bank is required.
9. Inform the project to accelerate the installation of elephant fences and construction of agro-wells soon.
10. Farmers are unable to start their cultivation due to a delay in construction agro-wells. The problem is lack of water. Therefore, it was suggested to inform the contractors to get work done quickly. Also, the elephant fence installation should be completed quickly before the start of chili cultivation in 2024.

11. Speeding up the regularization of land drainage by cutting the drainage canal system.
12. The problem for many farmers was that chili plants were weak due to poor-quality seeds (expired seeds). The executive committee was informed that many farmers are asking for research to avoid that situation and to do research for that.
13. To provide raw materials at a lower price to farmers who have paid the full share amount to the company, and to provide raw materials by charging more money to farmers who have not paid the share amount less or not.
14. The Executive Committee and the Board of Directors met and discussed, and it was proposed to hold a general meeting. But it was not successful in practice now, so it was decided to hold it village-wise.
15. Regain the materials from the farmers who do not cultivate and give the materials to the farmers who want to cultivate.
16. To increase the number of shareholders in the company, give the materials after collecting the share amount.
17. The audit was planned to be conducted in December 2023. It was proposed to notify the Executive Committee and inform the General Assembly about it.

The Board of Directors meeting will be held, and in the middle, Institutions and Development Specialist Mr. U.G. Abeygunawardena mentioned,

- Delay in infrastructure development,
 - Elephant fences and agro-wells
- To sell the green chili harvest of the farmers, the company will set up a temporary collection center, collect it, and send it to the economic centers at the same time.
- Some farmers do not know about this program and organize small meetings to make them aware.
- Arrangements to collect shares.
- Sell fertilizers, polythene mulch, agro-chemicals, and seeds through the company while keeping some profit.
